ITINERARY DESCRIPTION

Day 1: Saigon - Tra Vinh (L, /Cycling 55km+)

Shuttle from Saigon to TanAn where we fit our bikes and start our exploration of the second biggest dragon fruits in Vietnam. The highlights of the biking routes are friendly farmers shooting “hello” to you, through a village known for “hu tieu” (vermicelli) in My Tho and the splendid Vinh Trang pagoda. On arrival the dock, take a private boat to the Mekong Riverside restaurant for lunch. Then, hop on a bike to continue cycling onto the Quê Dừa (Coconut Homeland) in which you will learn more about how locals make the best use of coconut into a variety of products. Afterwards, we ride under a shady path to Ben Tre and onto Ham Luong (if time permits). Overnight in Tra Vinh Khmer Town.

Day 2: Tra Vinh - Can Tho (B, L /Cycling 60km+)

Tra Vinh is small town and it is not touristy destination for tourists traveling by bus. So it is really quiet at night. After 8:30 pm everything is seem to be closed and almost sleep. Tra Vinh province is considered the homeland to Khmer and there are numerous Khmer temples in the province. A full day cycling of today is a chance you are not only learning cultures but also cycling on deeply to traditional villages of Khmer, stop and visit some thatch houses, experience the ways of living and visit some colorful temples on our way cycling to through Tieu Can to Cau Ke. After we have lunch in town, a fantastic bicycling begins after just half an hour transfer by van/bus to Vinh Xuan. We continue explore beautiful countryside villages by cycling along canals, rivers fruit orchards and through rice paddy fields. We end up cycle and get on van/bus to Can Tho to check in hotel.r ends at your hotel in Hoi An.

Day 3: Can Tho - Saigon (B, L/ Cycling 43 km+)

Embark a motorized boat trip to CaiRang Floating Market, a bustling one on the river of CanTho. Explore numerous rural canals before getting back on our steel-horse from DongThanh all the way to TamBinh. Your lunch will be served at one of the most hospitable farmer’s home where you can have a quick shower before a 3-hour ride in van to bring you back to SGN Airport around 16h PM (depending on your pedal ability, our cycling distance between 35-50 km today).
